

VOICES OF WOMEN EAGERLY SOUGHT

Mayoralty Election Will Probably be Decided by Female Ballots.

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—Complete official returns from yesterday's primary show the failure of the socialists to capture the mayoralty by a majority vote. Mayor George Alexander, "good government" nominee, and Job Harriman, socialists, will compete in a two-man contest for the office Dec. 5.

The returns show the primary vote to have been as follows: Harriman, 20,157; Alexander, 16,790; Mushel, 8,168; Gregory, 327; Becker, 59. Harriman's plurality was 3,367. His vote fell short 4,188 of a majority over all, which was necessary for election.

Impartial leaders say the question in the coming campaign that is agitating all factions is "what will the women do?" There are now approximately 25,000 women registered and by Nov. 9, when registration closes for the fair sex, it is believed 40,000 will have qualified.

Herculean efforts have been and are being made by the socialists to enroll as many working women as possible. Socialist leaders claim 90 per cent of those will vote for Harriman. Seemingly recognizing that their only hope of offsetting the "women labor vote" lies in the registration of women in the residential districts, the good government forces have won in hundreds of deputies who will at once begin a house to house canvass.

The Town Of Tripoli.

To those unaccustomed to the sights and sounds and smells of the East, a visit to the town of Tripoli is more interesting than enjoyable. With its harbor and its hostelry are so incredibly bad that no one ever visits them a second time if he can possibly help it. The harbor of Jaffa in Palestine, is a trifle worse if anything, that of Tripoli; but the only hotel I know of which deserves to be classed with the Albergo Minerva in Tripoli, is the one next door to the native jail in Aden. Picture a cluster of square, squat, stuccoed houses, their tedious sky line broken by the minarets of mosques and the flag-staffs of foreign consulates, facing on a Crescent shaped bay. Under the sun of an African summer the white buildings of the town blaze like the whitewashed base of a railway station stove at white heat; the stretch of yellow beach which separates the harbor from the town glows fiery as brass; while the waters of the bay look for all the world as though they had been blued in readiness for the family washing. With in the crumbling ramparts of the town is a network of dim alleys and by ways, along which the yashmaked moslem women flit like ghosts, and vaulted trellis-roofed bazars where traders of twosome nationalities haggle and gesticulate and deaze and pray and chatter, the while they and their wares and the passing camels smell to heaven. Scattered here and there among the shops are native bakeries, in the reeking interiors of which after your eyes, become accustomed to the darkness, you can discern patient camels plodding round grinding the grain in true Eastern fashion between the upper and the nether millstones. From "Tripolitania: The Italian White Man's Burden" by E. Alexander Powell, in the American Reviews of November.

Temperance O'Rear.

On September 30th Judge O'Rear spoke in Cadiz. In less than two hours after he left Trigg county that afternoon, and within ten miles of the Trigg county line, he was in a saloon talking to a saloon-keeper, so we are reliably informed, when the saloon-keeper noticed the temperance button which the Judge wore on the lapel of his coat and said something to him about it, and the Judge, with a wink of the eye and a smile, replied: "Ah, well, you know I have just come out of a prohibition county."

We have the affidavit of two prominent citizens of Trigg county to the effect that this saloon-keeper, who is a Republican, told them of the above conversation—Cadiz Record.

Negroes Assassinated.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1—Five negroes have been assassinated in the vicinity of the Arcadie mines in the western part of the county since Saturday. The conditions have become intolerable, officers say, and while officers have the cases before them, the mysterious murders are shocking. Two negroes were found in the woods Saturday, shot to death. Since then three others have been put to death by unknown persons.

Hunters Killed.

Mays Landing, N. J., Nov. 2.—Mistaken for deer in the gloom of the early dawn, Constant Steelman and John Yost, business men of Pleasantville, were killed, and Wm. Jarvis, of the same place, was injured when a hunter fired at them at Weymouth, six miles from here.
